

ACORNE AND WAHANDA AGREE CORPORATE SALES PARTNERSHIP

ACORNE PLC has announced an agreement with Wahanda to become the corporate sales arm of its global wellness voucher.

A well respected name in leisure experiences and vouchers, Acorne PLC owns the Virgin Experience Days, Exhilaration, Virgin Vouchers and Leisure Voucher brands.

Talking of the partnership, Wahanda's CEO, Lopo Champalimaud, said: "Acorne has built an impressive corporate leisure experience and voucher business and we are excited to be working with such a talented team. The Wahanda voucher enhances Acorne's wellness offering and provides Acorne's partners with one of the most versatile gift cards in the market."

Wahanda, which is a Native American word meaning "great spirit and creator", is the largest health, beauty and wellness site connecting consumers to more than 10,000 businesses worldwide through information, reviews and special offers. The versatile voucher can be used for anything from acupuncture to Botox and facials to personal training.

The user-friendly site is the only company in the UK to offer access to information about spas, resorts, fitness centres, therapists and consultants on a local basis in addition to national brands. Voucher recipients can make their choice based on customer reviews and shared experiences.
